LETTER FROM THE U.S. EMBASSY IN PARIS

Embassy of the United States of America

Madame, Monsieur :

Pour ceux qui souhaitent effectuer un stage aux Etats-Unis, l'obtention d'un visa « J-1 » est requis avant de partir pour les Etats-Unis. Le visa « J-1 » est obligatoire pour tout stagiaire, même si le stage est pour une durée de moins de 90 jours et n'est pas rémunéré. La seule exception qui existe est pour les stagiaires aux Nations Unies, qui peuvent faire le stage avec un visa B1 avec une annotation spécifique. Ceux qui arrivent aux Etats-Unis en n'ayant pas le type de visa correct risquent de se voir refuser l'entrée et d'être renvoyés immédiatement dans leur pays d'origine.

Cordialement,

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to explore the possibility of participating in a paid training program in your company. As a French student pursuing a degree in Export Marketing, I am actively looking for a practical training in a company abroad. My training falls within my University's graduation requirements and must start in September for at least 6 months.

In regards to my legal eligibility to train with your organization, I would be participating in the J-1 Visa Internship USA program, sponsored by the Council on International Educational Exchange (CIEE), (www.ciee.org)

As my sponsor, CIEE is authorized by the U.S. government to issue the necessary documentation for me to obtain a J-1 visa, which allows me to train legally in the U.S for up to 12 months. I will also arrive with my sponsor provided, full coverage health insurance. Please see the following link for the details of this private health insurance:
<http://www.ciee.org/insurance/>

J-1 Visa participants are exempt from the following taxes:

- Social Security Taxes (FICA)
- Federal Unemployment Taxes (FUTA)

Further information on tax exemptions in the J-1 program can be found on CIEE's website:
<https://www.ciee.org/in-the-usa/research-training/intern-professional-training/resources/pay-and-taxes>

By participating in the J-1 Visa program, you will be contributing to the United State's cultural exchange and public diplomacy policies and will benefit from the support of CIEE for the duration of the internship.

I look forward to hearing from you soon and I strongly believe that my motivation, personal skills and studies will allow me to excel in a training position with you.

Sincerely,

About

What is great design? This is the question that every organization is answering today. I thought the design is just UI. Now, it is UX, User Research, Copy, it is an all-inclusive practice.

Currently, I am researching the role of VR 360° videos on the trust between brands and brands in the next sharing economy, as part of my Master's thesis. Some of the skills that are important in my workflow are user research, interaction design, UX copywriting and understanding the psychology of users and client's business goals. I had the opportunity to work on these skills as a full-time designer for about 2 years in India before my Masters' abroad. Here in Paris and Stockholm, I got to work on several student projects, my current thesis work, and extensive focus reading on topics of psychology and design.

I have had the pleasure of meeting various entrepreneurs in Stockholm through EITBk's introduction and events in the city. I read a book called "Reinventing Retail" a few months back which stresses on the concept of "Experience Economy" and where companies are brands that people want to experience. It is already evident with brands like IKEA, Parenthese does not impose a specific internship or employer: We will help you and guide you, but you are also completely free to do your own research, consider different offers, negotiate the mission and the compensation directly with the American employers and choose the internship that best suits you.

You don't know where to start? You can't manage to find a good host organization? We'll be happy to help you, free of charge. Contact us !

Finding your Internship is not mission impossible! Our experience shows us that participants find their paid internship within 3 to 6 weeks of active search.

Before beginning your search, prepare your resume and cover letter. It also helps to have a good idea of what you are looking for in a training program and have prepared a professional resume and cover letter. This section will provide you with valuable tips on how to write a resume and cover letter specific to the J-1 programs, and how to conduct a targeted search for a relevant training position in the U.S.

1. Begin by writing your resume (CV) – Give as many details of your educational and professional experience as possible and back them up with numbers when available. For example: instead of only putting "Marketing" on your CV, add a few bullet points explaining the work you did on budgeting, client presentations, number of clients, amount of contracts, etc... If your former employers have English websites, add those links to your CV.
2. Use the following example to write your Cover Letter – It is tailored to programs within the J-1 visa categories in the U.S. : Example Cover Letter Internship.

It is essential to mention that you are intending to apply for a J-1 Intern Visa through CIEE and that, as part of this program, CIEE will act as legal sponsor. Moreover, companies may also be interested to learn that your health insurance is included in your CIEE program.

This information should be given to your potential employers during your initial contact with them. Your cover letter should be included in the text of your email and not as an attachment. If you send an email to an employer with two attachments, it will most likely end up in the trash.

Background

Summary

My passion for communication drew me to public relations and marketing, where I worked with clients in industries including entertainment, government, non-profit, and tech. I became fascinated with the rapidly growing tech landscape and the business surrounding it. With my eye on the tech industry and a taste for developing and executing integrated marketing campaigns, I sought my MBA to gain additional business expertise.

I'm currently completing my second year of BYU's MBA program with a focus in marketing. Last summer, I interned in partner marketing for Adobe, where I look forward to returning full-time as Americas regional partner marketing manager.

If I can help you, please reach out. I prefer not to connect on LinkedIn with people that I do not know, but feel free to email or tweet me.
